Re: Claim for Legal Damages by Mr.
Ronald W. Mayes

Dear Mr. Bush:

With the completion of the Senate investigation of all of the intelligence community it is now deemed timely for the C.I.A. to settle its indebtedness to the undersigned for damages suffered beginning on or about September 1, 1953. At $50,000.00 per year for compensatory and exemplary damages, this total owed to the undersigned comes to 1.12 million dollars. This is for unconstitutional harassment, mental suffering, providing a subject for all of the shenanigans dreamed up by C.I.A. employees and those under C.I.A. direction, damage to reputation, career, peace of mind etc. as well as for benefits to the C.I.A. re legal direction, advice, intelligence information, political analysis and the like. Also do not forget the criminal acts perpetrated or schemed for.

This is a legitimate claim and it therefore behooves me to state that under no circumstances should any filed information be altered, damaged, destroyed, removed, concealed or transferred since under the Freedom of Information Act the undersigned is entitled to review all files and information bearing upon the undersigned. The files and information bearing upon the undersigned are therefore requested to be reproduced and forwarded to the undersigned.

My record speaks for itself so the details of the wrongs against the undersigned will not form a part of this letter. As an experienced trial lawyer this letter must not be considered as anything but a legitimate claim for damages by the C.I.A. lawfully accruing to the undersigned. It may also be considered a claim for involuntary services rendered to the C.I.A. over a long period of time.

Your earliest response to this letter is earnestly solicited.

Very truly yours,

Ronald W. Mayes
